

Batter Up!

The Millersville Rockets played a terrific game of baseball last night with some truly phenomenal plays. Defense was strong throughout the game and succeeded in shutting out the opposing team, the Campton Muskrats. But it was the team's batting performance that really stood out; particularly, the five hits that were key to the night's success (according to their avid fans).

The five hits were all different and were all hit by different batters. Determine the full name of each batter, the defensive position each played, and what type of hit each batter made.

		Bailey	Fiske	Munroe	Reginald	Stokes	1st base	3rd base	catcher	pitcher	short stop	double	grand slam	home run	single	triple
		Last Name					Defensive Position					Kind of Hit
Alan	First Name
Fred Greg Ronnie
Willy
double	Kind of Hit
grand slam
home run single triple
1st base	Defensive Position
3rd base
catcher pitcher short stop

1. Willy's last name was Reginald but he didn't play the 1st base position. Greg wasn't the catcher and his last name wasn't Bailey.

2. Fred hit the grand slam. Alan played the short stop position.

3. Mr. Fiske, whose first name wasn't Ronnie, hit the triple but he didn't play the 1st base position.

4. The pitcher, whose last name wasn't Munroe, hit the home run.

5. Ronnie, whose last name wasn't Stokes, played 3rd base but he didn't hit the double.

6. The five players were the one who hit a single, Mr. Stokes, the one who played on 1st base, the pitcher, and Alan.

First Name	Last Name	Defensive Position	Kind of Hit
Alan
Fred Greg Ronnie
Willy

by Shelly Hazard

